

Questions:

Is Defence going to be door-knocking/contacting residents and businesses around the Edinburgh RAAF base? If so, when? And what will Defence be telling these residents/businesses?

When does Defence expect it will decide if it will move to a full investigation of the Edinburgh RAAF base?

Response:

Defence is working with the SA Environment Protection Authority and the Salisbury Council to determine the next steps. To date, discussions have been primarily based upon the nature and characteristics of any future investigations, and seeking agreement on the focus of future investigations including issues such as location.

Once next steps are determined, Defence will undertake engagement with the community to provide further information on the environmental investigations.
