

Response provided to journalist
30 August 2018

Question

Trying to find out when the detailed site investigation will be released. I understand it may be any day now.

Response

Defence will hold a community information session in September to present the findings of the Detailed Site Investigation and to provide the local community with information on the next steps in the investigation.

Details of the information session will be made available to the public once confirmed. Notification will be circulated via local print advertisements and the Defence PFAS Investigation and Management Program website.