

MR HARRY DUNSTALL

Mr Harry Dunstall joined the Defence Materiel Organisation on 1 November 2007 as Special Counsel to the CEO.

Prior to this appointment he was Special Counsel in the Australian Government Solicitor (AGS) Commercial Group, where he specialised in complex Commonwealth tendering and contracting projects – having specialised in major Defence projects since commencing as a lawyer with AGS in 1997. Those projects covered the full range of Defence activity including projects for DMO; the Defence Community Organisation; Defence Infrastructure; Information Technology; and National Operations Division.

Until he undertook his role in AGS Commercial Group, Harry was Executive Assistant to the AGS

CEO and assisted in the transition of the organisation from being part of the Attorney-General's Department to the separate commercial entity that it is today.

Prior to this, he was with the Office of Legislative Drafting within AGD where he drafted a range of delegated legislation.

Between admission as a solicitor in early 1987 and joining AGD in 1994 he undertook a range of odd jobs and a lot of travelling.

Harry is married with three young children.