

AUSTRALIAN DEFENCE FORCE JOURNAL READER SURVEY

The ADFJ last conducted a reader survey in 2003 and feedback was used to improve more recent editions. The staff at ADFJ now seeks to update that information with your views. The survey should only take a few minutes to complete. In most cases you need only circle the appropriate answer but feel free to add further comments where appropriate. Please return the completed survey to the address overleaf by 30 May 2007. Photocopies accepted.

Layout

Is the format, style and design appropriate for a Professional Journal? Y/N
Is the cover design/pattern appropriate? Y/N
Should we illustrate the articles with photographs and maps? Y/N

Content

Are the articles in general:
 appropriate for your professional development needs? Y/N
 the kind of articles you prefer to see? Y/N too long or too short? too long/about right /too short

Would you like to see 'theme' editions once a year? Y/N

If you are a writer:

 would more detailed contributor's notes for articles and book reviews be appropriate (on website and print versions)? Y/N

Book Reviews

Are they useful? Y/N
Too long or too short? too long/about right /too short
Too many or too few? too many /too few

Distribution

The Journal is published electronically on the Internet at:
<<http://www.defence.gov.au/publications/dfj/index.cfm>>

Did you know this? Y/N

Would you prefer to use the e-version (as a PDF file) rather than the printed edition? Y/N

Would you use the e-version if we sent out:
 DEFGRAM or advisory notice as each edition is published? Y/N