Dear Mr. Jones,

Your letter of 1 November arrived here yesterday morning and I thank you very much for it. I was very glad when I read it and I can honestly tell you I am looking forward to your visit in Hamburg.

If you are interested in taking part in our reunion in November I should like to make the following proposal. The reunion will begin on Sunday, 19 November, and will last till Tuesday, 22 November. Unfortunately I cannot invite you to be my guest at our home, as two people, coming from the Eastern Zone, will stay with us. But I herewith invite you to be the guest of us survivors of Rostov! Tonight I booked a room in advance for you at the Hotel "Stadt Altona" (City of Altona) where we all meet during the reunion. I reserved rooms there for nearly all participants, therefore you will find enough interlocutors for all questions and problems.

When you agree you will have your room in the hotel till Wednesday morning and then you will come to us. Right in our neighbourhood there is a nice little hotel, and it is

Dear Edmund,

Thank you for your Christmas card showing your two daughters riding on two tame horses happy and in high spirits. What a nice idea of yours to take a photograph each year for the Christmas card to your relatives. Will you, please, tell your daughters, that Martha and I want to thank them for their good wishes which we answer to them as sincerely.

Dear Edmund, I herewith invite you most sincerely to take part in our reunion in November 1991, and, of course, also "Sydney" relatives if you can induce them to come. What about Mrs. Jones? Will she be interested in talking and dancing with former pirates? I shall be glad to shake hands with all our foreign guests.

As soon as the exact schedule is fixed I shall inform you about it. Do you think Elizabeth Templeton can be of some help?

Martha's hip has improved in the meantime but she has not yet reached 100% of her former mobility.

Martha's and my best wishes for the rest of 1991 to you, Mrs. Jones and the two proud lady-riders, Elise and Marion,
Yours Otto
