

Photograph of torpedo tubes, according to the photographs taken Sydney fired one torpedo from each tube port and starboard. One mounting has two torpedoes missing but one is lying on the seabed and the other mounting has one missing. Why would Sydney fire one torpedo from the port tubes and if she did – how did she miss at 1000 metres (according to the Germans, Sydney only fired torpedoes as she left the scene from the starboard tubes – and again, why only one ?
