

Although vertical wires and their radiation properties were known, the tendency was to connect these wires to a horizontal roof in order to increase capacitance.

SUBM.003.0120

The Inverted L aerial system found on naval ships upto the 1950's.