

September 5, 1992

SUBM.007.0119

Dear Mr. David Jenkins,

I wrote to you Professor Kawano would answer to your inquiry soon, but he has been on tour, his answer will be late. I apologize to you.

Rear Admiral Fujii's friend, who was the radio man of the 6th fleet Head Quarters, told to Rear Admiral Fujii that the I-class submarines used JN-25.

Rear Admiral Fujii also checked the location of I-59 etc on November 19. He has not full material. His study is as follow.

I-121, 122, 123, 124 advanced to Phy-Phone (I did not check spelling)

Island (South China) from Dockyard
(Kobe) at the end of November.

I checked the operation of I-59 and I-60.
The study is not perfect.

I-59 and I-60 advanced to Davao
from Japan at the end of December.
They engaged on repair until then,
I guess.

After Professor Kawano will be back, he will answer exactly.

With best wishes,

Kazuo Ueda