Name: jacob bolton
Organisation: jahwork

Submission: i believe we should extract our forces from all foriegn soil and work on defence of our own country. why is that everytime a troop dies over seas that we make the solider out to bea hero but we never question the ramifications of war? what is it they we say to the families of our fallen soliders that will justify their loss or even give their children reason that their mother or father will neverreturn home to them... but more than this is when will war become wrong or more accurately when will i become right. our policy of defense should be to live and let live, and allow Jesus' words to out live us all "love your neighbour, as you love love yourself". I want to believe in the countr i live in but there is too much blood on its hands for me to be able to yet.

I agree to my submission being published on the Defence website
