Subject: WWW Submission: 2. Navy/Sea Power [SEC=UNCLASSIFIED]

Name: David G Peet

Submission: With the commencement of construction of the Canberra Class vessels in South Australia we should take advantage of the design and instal the AVA8 Harrier Aircraft onto those ships. Bearing in mind that these vessels when in service will be travelling outside the protection of land based aircraft and heading into areas of conflict where they will require the services of air protection and if required they could supply air support to the troops in any engagement that they may undertake. A force of a total of one squadron (12) aircraft should be purchased and allocated to the two or three ships as may be the case, if two ships then six aircraft to each ship would provide invaluable protection to those ships and personnel.
