Establishing Defence training areas

Australia-Singapore Military Training Initiative

Under the Australia-Singapore Military Training Initiative, the Shoalwater Bay Training Area in Central Queensland is being expanded and a new training area is being established at Greenvale in North Queensland.

These training areas will be owned by the Australian Government. The Australian Defence Force will have priority access and the Singapore Armed Forces may use the training areas for up to two nine-week periods per year.

Purchasing land is only one step towards establishing a training area. There are other steps Defence must take so the areas can be used for Defence training (see over).
