EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

Defence Determination 1998/7

Defence Act 1903

This Determination implements a bonus scheme which will be made available for a limited period to provide for the retention of qualified and experienced Aircrew Observers in the Navy.

Selected officers will become entitled to a specified amount of bonus if they complete a period of service stipulated by the Chief of the Defence Force in an offer acknowledged by the officers on or before 30 June 1998. The amount of bonus will vary according to the period of service required of the member (as set out in the Schedule).

The Determination commences on the day on which it is made, as provided by subsection 58B(4) of the Defence Act 1903.

Clause 1 sets out the manner in which the Determination may be cited.

Clause 2 sets out the purpose of the Determination.

Clause 3 defines certain terms used in the Determination. The definition of “effective service” lists those forms of service that are not counted towards the required period of service for the bonus. The list includes service obligations that a member incurs for retention benefits under Part 8 of the Military Superannuation and Benefits Act 1991; other return of service obligations; and periods of more than 21 days’ leave without pay.

Clause 4 sets out an interpretation of ‘return of service obligation’ based on a similar provision in Part 8 of the Military Superannuation and Benefits Act 1991, modified for the purpose of this Determination to exclude certain aviation training and postings from such an obligation.

Clause 5 specifies the eligibility requirements for admission to the scheme.

Clause 6 establishes the amount of bonus to which an eligible member will be entitled in relation to an offer.

Clause 7 sets out the conditions for entitlement to the prescribed amount, and provides that no more than one amount of bonus is payable in relation to an offer.

Clause 8 provides a pro-rata entitlement for members who are unable to complete the required period of service in the limited circumstances specified in the clause.
The Schedule sets out the required periods of service and the corresponding amounts of bonus.
