Helmet Colours

Helmets are coloured primarily to ensure that they are highly conspicuous at an incident. The types of colours and reflective tapes used on helmets are designed to maximise their visibility in a variety of conditions during the day or night.

Many agencies also use colour-coded helmets to indicate rank or the function of personnel at an incident.

The ADF Fire Services utilize the following colour coding scheme:

RAAF

- White – Firefighter, NCO Fire fighter/Structural Fire Controller
- Red – SNCO Firefighter, Airfield Fire Controller, Fire Manager

ARA

- White – Emergency Responder (ER), Operator Emergency Response (OER - SPR/LCPL).
- Yellow – Commander Emergency Response Operations (CERO - CPL).
- Red – Supervisor Emergency Response Operations (SERO - SGT), Manager Emergency Response Operations(MERO - WO2/WO1).
