Hey s47F
Getting some pieces of info together with Legal and NMPB, one quick question though, well actually two please:

1. Was a check done via Supply Nation for the two tenders that they s47G and s47G had a JV lodged with them prior to approach via Limited Tender? And we checked Supply Nation for both but s47G was not in Supply nation (because they are not IB) but s47G is certified in Supply nation as a separate entity. Their JV is not in supply nation (not registered or certified). The conversations with s47G when they approached us to be included in the tender mentioned a 50-50 partnership which the JV mentioned too (each Party's interest is 50%) which is where we fell into the gap as we thought this was the same as 50% ownership which the IPP required if not supply nation certified. s47E(d)
2. With our invite to tender when we do a limited tender, is there ANYTHING in the email or doc's that expressly states the tender is for IPP/remote or any other reference that the invited are IBE's? There was no reference in the invite emails or tender that explicitly states that this is a tender for IBEs; however, the tenderers are aware that this is a limited tender as we provided the passcode to them and that this is remote procurement as the location is in Woomera. However, we have not explicitly stated this in the email invite or tender documents.

Cheers for now

Thanks for the notes - my preferred course of action for both EST05911 and EST05870 is to have each tender cancelled and to put them both back to the market for IBEs to bid on.

I acknowledge that this may cause some reputational damage and will delay the projects but it is my assessment that this is the fairest course of action for all respondents - including s47G themselves.

In doing so it should be confirmed by both s47G and s47G that only Supply Nation certified businesses are invited to participate in the re-tenders.

Hi s47E(c)

Thanks for the advise and for the work in closing this issue out. I have advised the team and they are preparing / updating the documents to go to market for re tender of this project. Target date to go out is early March 2022.

In relation to the closed tender, we will need to go back to all tenderers to advise them that we will be retendering the project. Is there any wordings that DEWPO / Legal would like us to use (for s47G and the other tenderers) s47E(d)

Hello s47F

s42

s42

We deem this to be the fairest approach for all, including s47G.

Noting that s47G has as yet not been formally advised of the findings, the recent investigation into a complaint that a contract was awarded to a non-indigenous company, from limited tender s47E(d) concluded that the awarding of the Contract to s47G was in breach of the IPP.

Can s47G please proceed with getting the project out to tender, as a limited tender ATM, and to ensure that all who are invited to tender are identified as IBEs through Supply Nation, this is the requirement of the MSA under the IPP.

s22

s22

I trust all the above is ok and happy to chat, if you could also let me know an approx. timing that we can re-tender for EST05911 pls?

Sorry did not get to this one yesterday.

We are hoping to get the report from Defence Procurement Complaints next week in regards to the contract awarded to s47G for s47E(d) s42
s42

Therefore with below:

To confirm, the advice is:

If s47G is the recommended tenderer, hold off on submission of the TEBR
If another tenderer is the preferred tenderer, ok to submit the TEBR.

I need to ask you please to hold off still, a TEBR has already been rejected with s47G as the preferred tenderer, we cannot accept then another in this circumstance – another course of action will need to be taken but this will not be clear to us until next week sorry.

Cheers and happy to chat ☺

Hi s47E(c)

Happy new year! Hope you had a well-deserved and relaxing break.

Just wanting to check if there is any movement on the below, the team is hoping to submit the TEBR but wanting to confirm if we can.

The PM for this is not back yet. But the last I heard is that they are looking to recommend the third preferred tenderer (as the second preferred did not extend the tender validity period and withdrew the tender when the validity period expired).

To confirm, the advise is:

If s47G is the recommended tenderer, hold off on submission of the TEBR
If another tenderer is the preferred tenderer, ok to submit the TEBR.

Let me know if this is correct. Thanks ☺

I really need to ask pls we hold off as we are getting legal advice and it is wrapped up on the other two tenders – EST05911 and s47E(d) s47G, we need to have a consistent response.

I know we are keen to get it to contract, but Ive advised s47E(c) it needs to be held off for now.

As detailed below, the Project was required to go back out to tender after sitting idle for six months. s22

s22

s22

Project EST05911 first went out to tender mid-2021 with the Tender Evaluation Board (TEB) being held in August. The Project was/is a Limited Tender - Indigenous Business Enterprise (IBE) as all Project Delivery Services (PDS) projects located in Woomera are. The tender process proceeded as per usual with companies being invited to tender if they met the requirements of the Indigenous Procurement Policy (IPP). Upon submitting the TEBR on 31 August 2021, the preferred tenderer's IBE status was called into question. After six months of reviewing from Defence it was determined that the preferred tenderer did not meet the requirements outlined in the IPP. By this point all other tenderers validity periods had expired and so the Project had to go out to tender again. The Project was delayed by approximately nine months by the time the second TEB was held and TEBR compiled and submitted.
