Department/Agency: Department of Defence

Topic: AIR5428 program status and regulatory compliance

Senator: Claire Chandler

Portfolio Question reference number: 129

Type of question: Written 14 June 2024

Question:

1. What is the status of the AIR5428 Phase 3 program?
2. What steps remain before the program is fully implemented?
3. Has Defence documented its governance and probity framework around the program?
4. Are the documents, frameworks and management of the program to date compliant with Department of Finance Ethics and Probity Procurement requirements, and the Commonwealth Procurement Rules?
5. Have conflicts of interest been identified, considered, and their assessment documented?
6. What conflicts have been registered and have these conflicts been adequately mitigated and managed?
7. Have any Australian sovereign proponents or interested parties submitted proposals or other expressions of interest for the program? If yes, are any of these still under active consideration?
8. Have there been any complaints or conflict resolution procedures undertaken for the program procurement?
9. Can Defence provide details, including any documentation, of resolving any complaints?
10. Can Defence provide details of any Defence Procurement Complaints Scheme (DPCS) review and consideration of any complaints handling, including documentation of findings?
11. Has Defence sought an independent review of relevant DPCS reporting and findings?
12. Has Defence sought legal advice, whether internal or external, in relation to the program, and in particular, any complaints resolution processes?
13. If legal advice has been obtained, was advice obtained from the same provider as any independent review findings?
14. If the independent review and legal advice has been obtained from the same party, on what basis has that same party performed both roles?

Answer:

On 16 June 2023, the AIR5428 Phase 3 Program – Air Mission Training System released a limited Request For Tender (RFT). s47C, 47E(d)

multi-stage procurement process of Request for Information (RFI), Invitation to Register (ITR) and RFT. While the evaluation of all RFTs has been completed, the AIR5428 Phase 3 program is yet to be considered for Gate 2 approval. For probity reasons, further details on the RFT program are not yet releasable.

Governance and probity frameworks around the program have been documented appropriately to ensure compliance with legislation and Defence policies. To date, all documents, frameworks and management of the program are compliant with the Department of Finance Ethics and Probity Procurement requirements, and the Commonwealth Procurement Rules (CPRs).

All conflicts of interest have been identified and considered, and their assessments documented in line with relevant legislation and Defence policies. Defence is unable to release specific details of any declared conflicts of interest.

Defence has undertaken complaints and conflict resolution procedures related to the procurement of the AIR5428 Phase 3 program including through the Defence Procurement Complaints Scheme (DPCS). The findings of a review under the Government Procurement (Judicial Review) Act 2018 determined that there were no identified breaches of the Commonwealth Procurement Rules. This was affirmed by an independent review of relevant DPCS documents.

Defence has sought external legal advice in relation to the program. The legal advice sought was focused on the development of documents that supported the RFI, ITR and RFT process. The legal advice obtained was not from the same provider that conducted the independent review of the DPCS findings.

A large rectangular area of the document is redacted, appearing as a solid grey block.

Defence has sought external legal advice in relation to the program. The legal advice sought was unrelated to the procurement complaint, instead focusing on the development of documents that supported the RFI, ITR and RFT process. The legal advice obtained was not from the same provider that conducted the independent review.

~~OFFICIAL. Sensitive~~

Good Afternoon s47E(c),

As you may be aware, the Department of Finance's Procurement Coordinator is currently reviewing the complaint review undertaken by the Defence Procurement Complaints Scheme.

In the course of this investigation the Procurement Coordinator has requested the following documents:

'copies of a probity plan or documentation to confirm that Col declarations were completed and signed by Defence or other entity officials working on the ITR stage of this procurement. If any Cols were declared by officials, please provide evidence of how these matters were managed.'

Can you please provide these documents?

Please let me know if you need to discuss.

Regards,

s47E(c)
