

Stokes Hill Fuel Installation, NT | Divestment underway

Address: 2 Frances Bay Drive, Darwin, NT 0800

Size: 3.88 hectares

Stokes Hill Fuel Installation was used from the 1920s until 2014 as a bulk fuel storage facility for Royal Australian Navy operations. The site ceased to operate in 2014 and was declared surplus in 2015.

Site Functions

This site has been vacant since 2014.

Site Information

The site is contaminated due to its use as a former Naval fuel installation.

Site Occupants

Nil.

Relocation Options

Nil personnel to be relocated.

History and Heritage

- ⦿ Stokes Hill is located within the traditional lands of the Larrakia people.
- ⦿ The southern portion of the site is a registered sacred site and is protected by the Northern Territory Aboriginal Sacred Sites Act 2012.

Divestment underway: When a property is identified as surplus, the appropriate disposal process is followed.